RUN 58 The Bradgate, Newtown Linford
SUNDAY 18th August
HARES Ellymay, Wallington, Zupada and last but not least Suterball.

Early one morning just as the sun was rising, I received a phone call from Ellymay HELP WAS THE MESSAGE!!!!!! poor Ellymay he,d fell down a pothole and hurt his ankle AH.....
And as in all good fairy stories a knight in shining armour came to the rescue of the damsel/hare in distress, who was this knight you ask.

PAUSE.....
(For dramatic effect)

Suterball poor fellow only phoned to see if there was a hash, and immediatly got roped in to help me lay the trial, so out went the intrepid four (two cripples and two incredibly beautiful and handsome humane beings) GOD I SHOULD WRITE A BOOK!!!!!!!
Anyway thats the end of the fairy tale now on to the run.

The sun came out once again on hash day, and a motley crew of hashers assembled in the car park, welcome back to Log Jam who hasn,t hashed for a year!

Off they ran into the country side with new ideas for check points being supplied by Suterball, these being a last person check, a R.A Check,and a beer check with cans of beer hidden in the undergrowth, the latter proving a great success.

Halfway round the pack stopped for a ice cream (god are we getting soft or what)

Everything was going very well until guess what we meet a!!!!!! "ENRAGED LANDOWNER" but us hashers being tough like what we are, weathered the storm and carried on regardless.
All in all a good trail even if I say so myself.
