

RUN 99. Sunday 20th. June.
The Priory, Loughborough.
Miss Perfectly Insane & Shedless.
Scribe - Sindere.

Amongst some of the pre-Hash discussions was who would wear the Wanker's Cap? Who else would be fit for the job but Gentleman Jim (or 'the Mouth')! The Hash was afoot with everyone going the correct way but Ermanrude and Sindere! What sense of direction they have!!?

However, they were soon to catch up as the more gullible ones amongst us (namely, Balbycock, Baldycock and Baldycock) followed a falsie around a fishing lake (was this one really designed for the absent Josh?). Up a hill, which was to be the first of many, and towards a series of kissing gates, which allowed Shedless and Bottomtime to show their real affection for each other. Up another hill and to a checkpoint where Sinder's rear end got well covered in flour and had to be brushed off by Shedless (which wasn't an unpleasant experience!). Joan and Ermanrude set about snowing fellow Hashers how to fall for a falsie (trail, that is!). What do you expect from a 45 year old - as we were constantly reminded of by Joan!

With cheerful cries of On! On! from Miss Perfectly Insane and they're twins, you know', we made our way up another hill. Our reward was waiting at the top, as everyone tucked into lollies. Then, on on as a confused GropeHer, amazingly enough, didn't find the trail in the ladies toilet!! The extent some people go to! Through a forest and around fields where some of us took the liberty of becoming SCB's - the first time we saw Mad Dog (Uncle, Uncle Derrick) run all morning. Was it just the sight of female cricket players which caused this spurt of energy? Then on up to the Priory.

As it was Jim's THIRD run we found a suitable name for him: "Lunch Box" - eat your heart out Linford Christie!! But, as we were about to find out, it was only his lighter and cigarettes responsible for his new-found reputation - also for the theory about 'how corn circles are made'!!! Well, at least Bottomtime is more honest as he demonstrated how Baldycock's dog-training furry object always impresses the ladies!! Then, it was on in to Joan's place for a good nosh-up. A good Hash and on-afters.

DOWN DOWNS.

- Hares - Miss Perfectly Insane and Shedless - a great run.
- Paxo - the estranged Hasher.
- Barritone - the Wanker's Cap for running to the Hash, worn with pride
- The Virgin Twins - Sarah and Kate.
- LunchBox - third run naming.
