

RUN 1035. 3rd October 2021. The Willow Tree, West Bridgford. Hares: Butcher's Dog and Lincolnshire Sausage.

RA for today was Durex, claiming the glorious weather after such a miserable day the day before. The start was delayed just to make sure that other hashers were not driving round trying to park as the pub car park had been closed and the roads nearby were choker! It was mainly an urban trail around the local area with a WW11 bunker providing a point of historical interest. Barritone wondered if he was in Prague because there were soooooo many checks along the many alleyways. Good checking by Long Dong Silver and the newly named Duck'n' Dive. They certainly did quite a long way more than the perfect 5 miles the hares promised at the start. The trail was set in two halves by the hares and Butcher's Dog must have gone rouge as Sausage had no clue where it was going until he consulted on the phone. Cheers for laying the trail.
