RUN 104. - The Cuckoo Bush, Gotham (City).
Wednesday 1st. September.

HARES - Sindere and Gentleman Jim.

SCRIBE - Shedless Chicken.

No. present: 21.

The DA-DA DA-DA DA-DA DA-DA, DA-DA DA-DA DA-DA DA-DA, Batman Run.

As the Batmobile rolled into the Cuckoo' car park, Gotham City was set for another crime-fighting episode of lunacy. (Get those Y-fronts off!)

Julian Clary's answer to the Caped Crusader coupled with the Girl Wonder (nice bum!) would have brightened any Hash, but took some Hash stick in the form of Baldycock humour. In depth explanation from Gentleman Jim and we were off - or was it On On?

Three bloody great hills and the picturesque scenery of the local Power Station later, finally brought the pack haring into the dusky woods where Josh eventually caught us up having got lost, apparently having caught a train back from Melton Mowbray! Are you losing your bearings in Cyranose's absence? But, in the true theme of the evening came Gentleman Jim's surprise bat impersonation which caused a few more logs to be encountered and a full moon, which needs to be seen to be believed - photo in future Hash Trash. Back to the Pub where whispering (not Josh) was the order of the day with Down Downs as follows:

Gentleman Jim and Sindere - Hares and a bloody good run!

Paxo - for arguing with a farmer (in his absence!)

Shedless - for swearing allegiance to his gonads instead of perfecting his running style.

Pumping Pussy and Too Easy - New namings for Julia and Wendy!

Pigeon Shit - ? accompanied by a $\frac{1}{4}$ of a very obnoxious song in comparative silence.

Solicitor - ex-GM Yemen H3 hijacked by Groveller in pub car park.

Josh - WANKER'S CAP for misdemeanours too numerous to mention!!

Safe to say we won't get back into the Cuckoo Bush again!

AN EXCELLENT NIGHT WAS HAD BY ALL!!
