

RUN 1057. 4th September 2022. The Old Thatched Inn, Stanton under Bardon. Hare: Wallington

Welcome to visitors Spec Savers and Salty. It was the second time in a row now that the On Inn had a thatched roof, (unusual for our area).

Wallington wanted the hashers to warm up ready for the hill to come so he led the trail through a playground with an outside gym. The Flying Fox needed a good technique to get a good run across but Bugger found the gym equipment was in good working order. Spec Savers enjoyed it so much that she went back after having coffee with the vicar at a nearby church.

Durex enjoyed the trail so much he run it twice; second time round to keep a very late comer company. Back at the On Inn, Durex had found Crooked Squire locking up his bike. He'd been to another village "under Bardon". Easy mistake to make when you're from Derbyshire.

Goblin and Bugger had bid on most of the produce and cakes at their village horticultural show the day before and kindly shared a variety of cakes with the hash. Wallington also provided the pack with chip cobs. Well done and thank you for a great trail.
