

Run No: 395
Date: Thursday 6th June
Venue: The Company Inn, Nottingham
Hare: Chicki & Too Tuff
Scribe: Durex

The assembled hares of BLOW, CREAMY, BARRITONE and myself all arrived to this city location without cars and hence nowhere to store bags until MALTEASER arrived. The principal hare (CHICKI) was fooled rather easily into telling the hashers that the start of the run went by the Broadmarsh car park.

A well laid trail sent us up to the BBC, past the County and Forest grounds along the Trent, across to the Marina at the back of Sainsburys and back along the canal to the ON IN. BARRITONE, not his usual self, shortcut half way round leaving the few remaining hares setting a cracking pace around the streets of Nottingham. The hare either showed signs of drunkenness whilst laying the trail or was obviously zigzagging around cars in what was later a totally empty car park.

At The Company we had the promise of a beer and curry for £4, an offer taken up by most of the hares. The circle was held outside in the rain with Down Downs awarded to MALTEASER and DUREX for deceiving the hare into giving the direction of the trail at the start; BLOW for shortcutting through the bushes at Trent Bridge; and the cohare TOO TUF for his poor contribution to setting the trail.

That's the way I remember it several weeks later.....
DUREX