

Run 396 @ The Cap and Stocking – Kegworth

Hares: - Clepto and Skids

The hash started around 11.10, we had to leave early as some of the runners wanted to watch '22 men kicking a ball about' (as chicki put it).

We all ran out along a back street wearing a cap and stocking, towards a large open field. After the running through the field we went along side the Brass factory, I'm surprised that no one went in for a quick sample of the beer. Then we cared along the main road out of Kegworth. I was personally more interested with the planes coming into land rather than the run its self. I was then passed by to late comers. The run then went around another field. We subsequently went under the main road again. Where I caught up with the rest of the pack, who were doing a check that went into a tunnel. I stood around waiting until the right route had been found, then causal followed everyone else. We then ran through some more fields, until we came to a main road, which we crossed and ran through some more fields full of thistles. That was a good reason why we need to have stocking on, unfortunately I wasn't wearing one, but luckily I was wearing long trousers. Then we made away back to the pub along the way we came out.

Malti got into an argument with the pubs manager about the hamburgers. After seeing her hamburger, I decided that I wanted one, I covered it in English mustard, BIG mistake, it made my nose hurt.

We then had the circle. The down downs are as followed:-

- Myself (hash monster) – for shortcutting
- Bugger- For winging
- Blow – for going the wrong way
- Malteaser- one for being an impostor and one for FRB
- Baratone- for being a filthy frog
- Skids and Clepto- for being the hares

There was also a naming: - Dave Magoun shall be now know as Shagulater

After all the announcements, half of the group went in to watch the nail biting Ireland football match, which they felt that Ireland should have won.
